ChatRun Vision Statement

ChatRun is the solution to the personal disconnect that current social media has unintentionally created. The over-emphasis on globalization in today's social media has buried the importance and significance of local connections. Although other social media provides a way of maintaining older relationships, it does not encourage new personal and local connections. Our goal is to connect like-minded individuals both professionally and casually on a local level. The app will allow users to find and communicate with others in small online discourses with others that share similar topics of interest. It will be easy for users to find and form connections with individuals, and enhance their commonalities from within their community. ChatRun will provide tools and opportunities for safe interactions among users that share similar ideas and location. This will allow communities to grow and connect in a natural and convenient way. ChatRun will enable users to go out and discover their community.
